Fine Art Paintings for Interior Design

the beauty of fine art

Beautiful and custom fine art pieces infuse any space with a handcrafted design unlike anything else - not just for the brag or status factor, but for building a home that is full of shared values. These paintings by masterful artist Hannah V. of Hannah V Fine Arts bring attention back to the calming effect of fine art for a statement luxury home.

Each artwork is a testament to true one of a kind workmanship. From more than a decade in the fine art business, there is never the use of multiple prints made of any clients fine art pieces, every design is original and inspired. Hannah V.'s artwork can range in concept from fresh new ideas which are part of a larger collection, to entirely custom designs and subjects.

When it comes to exclusive and unique projects, Hannah V. loves crafting something that is directly inspired by the clients' property that the artwork will soon be home to. This is done in many ways like bringing in colors, textures, and themes that match their decor, using rustic hand picked window frames for landscape murals, setting up times to personally tour the home, and more. Usual client visits are Monday thru Saturday 10am-5pm.

“Bringing joy, comfort, and peace back home...”

art has peace and joy

Most people are familiar with big box store printed art, but only a few take advantage of luxury, original, and one of a kind artwork for their home. Every piece of fine art has a story that cuts through stress of the mind and strikes a cord with someone's heart and intuition. Working with design professionals helps bring a clearer view of the integration of a clients' new or soon-to-be new piece of fine art. We love to work with the deeper story and connection of art, all while getting to the details like product size and finishing.

Hannah Van Steenwyk

Painter and Sculptural Mural Artist

“My custom paintings are always something more than just a pretty piece. I love bringing nature into the home in an elegant way. It’s important that my clients know that I share similar values, expectations, and that my work is the right highlight piece for their homes and businesses.

Bringing joy, comfort, and peace back home. I create not only for myself but for the goal of bringing these important values back home that ultimately change any atmosphere. I value connecting authentically with folks that I interact with about every aspect of me and my work. By developing upon colors, metallic details, textures, and contrasting yet calming scenes, I combine my love for the simple beauty of nature and my passion for artistic designs.”

Hannah V. is a traditional materials artist and has been a feature in many publications for her fine art, community involvement, and teaching passions. She has won awards and exhibited her artwork in the United States.
